

Synopsis - Four English women break free of their rain-drenched every day life by renting a run down castle in Italy. Once there they are surprised to discover romance, secrets and redemption. Not really my cup of tea.