

No more biting

Sunday, 11 April 2010 20:00

As retold by Aline: Hazel was teasing Sam (which she denies) so he bit her. She left the room closing the door on her way out and told Sam he was in a time out then she went to her room. He eventually followed her and I heard her come out and say to him . . . "Do you know what I didn't like about what you did? You bit me and that is not a nice thing to do. Never ever ever ever do that again."
