

Charlie and the Chocolate Factory?

Wednesday, 25 January 2012 13:02

Hazel was playing with Sam this morning and told him that they had to go make chocolate at the chocolate factory for all the kids who need candy. The factory was the marble run they received at Christmas. ♦ First they made gum balls. Then they asked what mum would like to eat. She said Easter egg chocolates so they made that next. As mum went upstairs they started making chocolate tea. This bodes well for my future baking needs.
