

Now that Hazel is learning to read it's fun to see her struggle with words sometimes. We were at a hockey game on the weekend and there were big labels for Home and Visitors above the benches in our view which she noticed and tried to read aloud:

Hazel: H-O-M-E Home! and the other one is Velociraptor?